Price Range You Should Expect

- MSRP (base XSE): 31,580–32,500
- With packages/accessories: Up to $38,500
- What dealers are listing: 35,000–39,000 (includes dealer markup)
- Your target OTD price: 33,000–35,000 (at or slightly below MSRP, no markup)
- California tax + fees estimate: ~3,200–3,800 on top of sale price

Key insight: Hybrid XSE models are in demand but not as scarce as they were in 2023-2024. You should NOT pay over MSRP. If a dealer adds a “market adjustment,” move on to the next one.

Subject: Toyota Corolla Cross Hybrid XSE — Ready Buyer, Need Best OTD Price

Hi [Internet Sales Manager / Sales Team],

I'm looking to purchase a 2025 or 2026 Toyota Corolla Cross Hybrid XSE within the next 7 days. I'm flexible on color but prefer [color preference or “any color”].

I'm reaching out to several dealerships in the area and will be purchasing from whoever offers the best out-the-door price with no dealer add-ons or market adjustments.

Could you please send me:

1. Your best out-the-door price (including tax, title, license, and all fees)
2. Current availability / VIN if in stock
3. Any dealer-installed accessories included in the price

I'm a serious buyer with financing already arranged. I'm happy to come in and sign paperwork as soon as we agree on numbers — no need for a test drive.

Thank you, [Your Name] [Your Phone Number]

Pro Tips for Your Friend

1. Send this email to ALL 10 dealers at the same time. Let them compete.
 2. Don't visit the lot first. Once you're physically there, you lose leverage.
 3. "Out-the-door" is the magic phrase. It forces them to include ALL fees upfront — no surprises.
 4. Say "no dealer add-ons." Many dealers pre-install nitrogen tires, paint protection, LoJack, etc. and charge 2,000–4,000 extra. Refuse all of it.
 5. If they say "market adjustment" — walk. In 2026, there's no supply shortage justifying a markup on this car.
 6. Use Costco Auto Program if you have a membership — guaranteed no-haggle pricing below MSRP at participating dealers.
 7. End of month = better deals. Salespeople have monthly quotas. Last week of the month gives you more leverage.
 8. Once you get the lowest quote, send it to the other dealers: "I have a quote for $X OTD from another dealer. Can you beat it?" Let them fight.
 9. Check TrueCar/Edmunds for the "fair purchase price" in your area as a benchmark.
 10. Don't buy the extended warranty at signing. If you want one later, buy it from any Toyota dealer — you don't have to buy it where you purchased the car.
